

Unfortunately, one more example of a waste of Tax Payers money on programs that are not enforced or otherwise in effectual.

Another pita caller. I block the number but they just call from another. I don't owe anyone a dime and my credit is fine.

623-223-6003 just called about lowering my credit card interest rate. I said I was on the US and Missouri do-not-call list. He got extremely arrogant and said this call was not a solicitation and was "something we earned". When I wanted his name and company name, he said angrily "I am asking the questions Sir ...". Then I hung up.

Caller: he would not give it

Same deal, caller ID as a wireless caller and then gave us a recorded sales pitch on lowering our credit card costs. Sounds like a scam.

I also just got a call from this number. Who are they and why are they exempt from the do-not-call registries? I get 6-10 calls per week from them and no effort I make can get the calls to stop.

I get calls to lower my credit card rate on a regular basis and have written the Montana Attorney General's office and The Los Angeles District Court. So I ask them nicely to remove my name and phone number from their list. I also said I was reporting their number to the Montana Attorney General's office.

I was told in no uncertain terms to Go blank Myself! He then slammed the receiver down. '

Thanks,

fed up

Got call from 6232336003 but no ID on Caller ID so I didn't answer. The no call registry and the FCC complaint process are for the most part a waste of time. I've filled several complaints and always get the gov. run around about how they don't go after individual compalints but the info helps the larger picture. The FCC should take one of the complaints and acctually file charges and levey the fines. Make an example of one and it might help.

Sign up for free service like Youmail and after a number comes up add it to your contacts in the service, then "ditch" the call straight to the recording that says "this number is disconnected." It's easy.

They stop calling fast.

They just called... I said "I need you to take me off every list you have" the guy interrupts me and says "no no no no no no no no no"

I said

"No what?"

He said

"I want to talk to you."

I said

"Excuse me?"

he said

"You heard me, I want to talk to you." (VERY rude tone of voice.)

I said

"Excuse me but that is extremely rude and I need you to take me off your list immediately."

...he hung up.

No message, so I called them back and I received the message in English and Spanish that they were not available. I can only block 20 numbers on my land line and today alone I had to add 5 numbers.
